

Do you have a child between 8-12 years of age with Asperger's or ASD?

We invite you to participate in a new research study,

Secret Agent's Society: Operation Regulation

What is this about?

This study is about a new program designed to improve the emotional understanding and social skills of children.

What does participating involve?

Participating involves weekly 1-hour visits to York University where you and your child will meet with a trained therapist for one-on-one therapy. Your child will get to do an assortment of activities and play games (e.g., computer games, problem solving tasks, and role playing). The activities are aimed to help build emotion regulation skills.

You and your child will also participate in research to evaluate the effectiveness of the program.

There is no cost to the program, except for parking and travel to the university.

I'm interested! What next?

For more information, please contact the Researchers at York University (Dr. Jonathan Weiss, lead) by phone at 416-736-2100 x 22987, or by email at calbaum@yorku.ca. You can also visit us at our website:

<http://ddmh.lab.yorku.ca/secret-agents-society/>